Tricia,
To my very favored lab partner. I'm sure have had a good time
looking over at that fish harem. It was? I'll never forget it when that tadpole was eaten by that big fish. Thanks for informing me on all the happenings at the B.C.
Luck always,
Mimi

Tricia,
to say, Great, aren't you B.C. and you're a good friend too. I know you are so cute, as well as funny. I know you don't even need it. I know you don't see ya next year at my last year at this school (finally!)

"I'll note you in my book of memory."
(William Shakespeare)

A yearbook is full of memories. On a lazy day in summer, it is nice to sit back and open the yearbook to look over the pictures of old friends, check how the football season went, or find the last act of the musical. The extracurricular activities as well as the different departments are included in any good yearbook. High school is sometimes said to be the best four years of a person's life. It may be so, but first a person has to make memories to have memories. Through learning, writing and doing, a person can develop an insight as to how his world will be in the future. A yearbook helps the memories be printed indelibly forever.

Class of '75

Seniors have traditionally had special activities and privileges given them. These include such things as senior plays, dress-up and dress-down days, pie-eating contests, tricycle races, and the option of graduating early in the year.

Seniors are elected to important places for their last year at Howe: student council offices, class offices, National Honor Society offices.

"These are the best four years of your life . . ." Not only seniors but all students have heard that familiar phrase over and over, but it still holds true to form. These are the years of the big decisions about future, family and feelings. Senioritis, however, occurs in even the best of us. In some it happens during the middle of the senior year, the feeling that one is just a number, a machine doing the same boring thing every single day. In some more advanced cases, the symptoms can begin to show as early as the last half of the junior year. Some have found a remedy in third-year graduation. For those who finish the four-year program, there is the June commencement. Many want to get a head start on jobs. Others want to squeeze all they can from their final year. All have gained from their years at Howe.

Underclassmen Hold School Together

Much of a yearbook is devoted to seniors, but school life is made up of the activities of underclassmen as well as seniors. Juniors, sophomores and freshmen have to pass the same courses, and some new ones too, as seniors. To the freshman school may look like four years of continuous grind, but sophomores have adjusted to it somewhat and juniors are just starting to become swamped in the morass of paperwork and tests associated with graduating and applying for jobs or college. But in spite of the sometimes apparent hopelessness, most of these underclassmen will one day be seniors also.

- A. The freshman year sets the tone for academic life.
 B. Underclassmen continue the Hoos tradition of winning athletics.
 C. Underclassmen fill the upper floors before homecoming.
 D. Underclassmen form the heart of the dance band.
 E. Junior Linda Fry dominated publications sales.
 F. Horseplay in the halls is typical of sophomores.
 G. Biology classes are a real experience for most Hoos students.
 H. Junior Carol Hempling achieved high honors as guest soloist for the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Freshman cheerleaders represent class of '78 well.

"We Can Make it Happen."

A new spirit was felt in this year's Student Council. The Council still presented the traditional social events but the real emphasis was placed on being a voice of the student body.

The Council set many objectives at the start of the year. We wanted to establish open communication between the students and the faculty. Communication with one another, we feel, is essential in a well-adjusted school. We wanted the Council to be a student organization, truly representing the students. We also wanted to show that Howe students can be mature enough to handle new privileges.

The Custodian and Cafeteria Ladies Recognition Days, the Bachelor Survival Course, the student-teacher meetings, the numerous questionnaires, and the many projects such as the juke box and the I.D. cards were all positive steps toward reaching our objectives.

We were very busy with problems this year. With every project came one or more problems. The Council was busy with projects such as the American Lung Association, homecoming activities, the Brown and Gold, sock-hops and many more. Probably the most rewarding project was the Christmas party at the Marion County Home for the Aged.

One of the things we really stressed to the representatives was their importance to the student body. In a school such as Howe, with over 2,000 students, some sort of student voice is needed. Because the student body elects other students to the Council, these representatives should act as the voice of their homerooms to both the Student Council and the administration. The Student Council should function for the students, not in spite of them.

As the Council looks back on the year of 1974-75, we hope to have cleared the way for future councils to better serve the student body. We hope future councils can benefit from our successes and mistakes.

I feel very fortunate to have served as this year's president. I am indebted to the Council, Mr. Tout and the administration, and the teachers for all their help and support. All were extremely generous with their time and energy. I am confident that future presidents will enjoy the school that I was fortunate enough to have served.

At the beginning of the year, I said, "We can make it happen." With the help of the students, the teachers and the administration, we have made many things happen at Howe this year.

Our Nameless Backers

Many people we never see or rarely know by name help to make our school what it is. Our parents make us what we are. In turn many of them help to make Howe the school it is by involvement in groups like the PTA and 400 Club which support the school without the recognition they deserve. We can picture a few of them in action and thank them for what they do but can't possibly show all or name all. Some, such as the cafeteria workers, we can picture without naming because there are so many. Others, our custodians and security personnel, we can't even picture because of the hours they work. We dedicate these pages to those nameless many who helped to make Howe the school it was in 1974-75.

The first few weeks of the freshman year can be confusing. Choosing majors and minors, trying to get the right teachers and looking for easy credits is an imposing task, and a mistake may mean hours in the counselor's office. Then when you get your schedule, you find out that you are signed up for Russian 13 and seven study halls. All is not lost, however, and you finally manage to get the proper courses, lunch with all your friends and a job as teacher aide to get out of study hall.

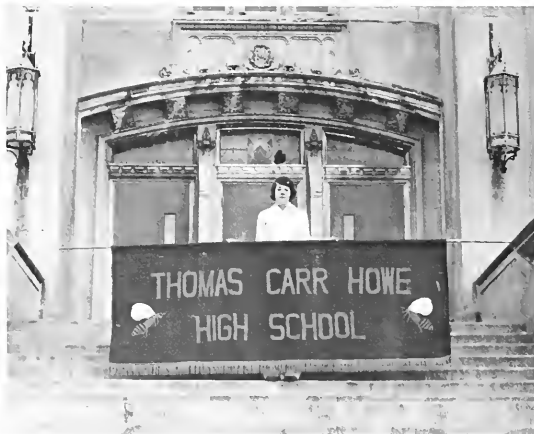

Of course, there are problems that can strike anyone from freshman to senior. Lockers that won't open, getting caught in the restroom (but we weren't smoking), and getting cut slips from classes you aren't even in will continue all through high school. With time you will gain experience in what teachers to avoid in the halls when you don't have a pass and what teachers will provide you with a pass when they don't even know where you are going.

By the time you are a senior you learn to look self-confident and intent on your purpose when roaming the halls, so nobody bothers to stop you. You discover courses like Introductory Math 9 that will earn easy credits with no effort, or you have found your role as a scholar. You have also earned a reputation, either good or bad, that there is no use trying to live down now.

By playing for the football games in the fall and the basketball games in the winter, the Howe band helped to boost the spirit of the teams and the school. Keeping busy in the extracurricular activities, the band played in the Veteran's Day Parade, the May concert and commencement. They also played in the 500 Festival Parade. Mr. Terrill Mahler, band director, also kept them busy practicing for these important events.

Orchestra

"Nothing comes without much hard work." Such is the motto of the orchestra. Many in the orchestra work hard on solos, quartets, ensembles and other groups. They also work together to make the orchestra not only good but the best. Members keep busy playing in concerts and many other programs.

The string ensemble played an important part in the group. They were rated first in district competition and also placed first in the State Solo Ensemble contest.

Mr. William Christoff, new orchestra director, also kept all members busy practicing for the important concerts.

Choir

The choir has had a very hectic year. Their first performance was with the many other high school choirs of the city at the Market Square Arena dedication ceremony. Next came the Christmas programs: the Irvington Community Sing, Christmas on the Circle, an assembly for the student body, and a special performance at the Education Center.

Then came second semester and the annual musical, Kismet, one of the most difficult musicals to perform. In May the music department presented two music festivals, one instrumental and the other vocal. At these performances advanced students received letters or pins for their participation in choir, ensembles or concert clubs.

The last performance of the year is at the commencement ceremonies, a final tribute to the seniors of '75.

Madrigals and Ensembles

A madrigal is a short medieval lyric of love. The madrigal singers of the sixteenth century traveled from village to village performing for landlords and kings. Our madrigals travel from church to church, in an effort to bring the madrigal alive in '75. The Madrigal Singers' season of the year is Christmas. Churches all over the city invite the Madrigals to perform the traditional feast, where these talented young people demonstrate the sixteenth century dances, songs, and skits.

The Ensembles, unlike the Madrigals, sing the songs of today. All through the year the Girls and Boys Ensembles perform for the regularly scheduled Howe events and for many other places such as the Convalescent Center, the Gift and Hobby Show, and the various feeder schools to instill interest in the music department.

English

The English Department continues to flourish with the use of phase-electives. New electives were offered as well as the older ones. These courses give the students an opportunity to branch away from the traditional English format and concentrate on particular areas of interest. Among the newest electives established was the Performing Arts class taught by Mrs. Baker. This class is designed for the advanced drama students who enjoy performing before various audiences. Participating students are selected through auditions. Visuals was another new course, giving the student a chance to understand the processes involved in the actual filming of programs. The student also learns about and experiments with cameras. Mr. Bruce Beck, department head, aids in developing the kinds of interesting class electives which appeal most to the student body.

The Foreign Language Department includes the study of Spanish, French, Latin and German. Each program consists of grammar, actual speech and history. Students use the language lab to assist them in understanding their second languages. Among the activities of the year was a trip to La Tour restaurant by the French classes for a French meal. Mr. Raymond Hulse, department head, sent three of his advanced Spanish students, Elaine Lagenaar, Terry Bevis, and Judi Rollins to participate in the I.U. Honors Program for Foreign Study Abroad. They spent a summer in Mexico using only the Spanish language.

Science Department

The Howe Science Department has undergone a great change in the past year. Not only has it initiated new courses, but is becoming a department where students are allowed to work on their own and work at their own speed. Many classes, especially those in chemistry, are allowed to do so. This new method seemed to work well for the students really enjoyed class.

Math Department

The Howe Math Department welcomed two new members to their staff, Miss Alice Purvis and Miss Roxy Watson. New materials are being tried in three classes of General Math 1 and 2. Howe was one of the few public schools selected for this program. A new teaching system, also being tried in the fourteen algebra classes, is a semi-individualized method. Overall, the Howe math department has done a good job. Nearly 1300 students are presently enrolled in various math classes within the department.

The major achievement in the Social Studies department this year was the success of the English oriented history classes. American Studies began in the 1973-74 school year and combines U.S. History and English, giving the students credit in both classes. World Studies also has the same advantage of double credit.

The main event of the 1974-75 year was, of course, the mock elections. Students are organized into precincts, districts, and counties. These groups are then organized into two parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists. The students themselves campaign and vote as in a regular national election. Students and teacher alike enjoy their history classes during this month-long break in routine.

The gym classes this year had to go through the first semester without any locker rooms. All activities had to be done in street clothes and tennis shoes. At the beginning of the second semester, though, the girls locker rooms were opened.

The department had one new teacher and one teacher return. Mr. Larry Humes taught boys phys. ed. classes and was also JV basketball coach. Miss Janice Brown returned to Howe after a year's leave of absence.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department, like most other departments, has been changed in almost every respect this year. There have been new students, new classrooms, new equipment, and a new teacher, Mr. Paul Schneeman. Production and practice in all divisions had a late start because of construction delays, but students and teachers adapted well to poor conditions. The first to enter their new facilities were drafting and printing. Woods and metals moved later in the year. As the year ended, plans were being completed for courses in electronics and auto mechanics for the new areas of the department.

"The new construction this year didn't miss the art department," explained Mrs. Duncan. "The art department has a new image which makes it look like an art department. The facilities are beginning to fit our changing, challenging times."

The art department has entered the city and state contests. The biggest contest is the 500 Art Festival. The artwork goes to the Convention Center for the final showing. The Scholastic Art Contest of 1975 was another of the bigger contests.

Something new happened in the form of a program for the borrowing of artwork. The teachers ask the students for the loan of their personal artwork for a period of about six months. This program differs from the old one in that the student is sure of getting his donated work back.

The Howe Home Economics Department moved to a new location this year. The old wrestling rooms now look like two new kitchen areas and a sewing room with 24 new machines. New classes are also included in the modernization. Bachelor living, which many of the guys enjoy, needle art, a very popular course, and personal grooming are just some of the new classes offered.

The Business Department of Howe is a very successful part of the school. Students who major in business here are in great demand by employers in the area. Courses that are offered to assist the students are typing, shorthand, clerical practice, business machines, and many others. Howe's JROTC unit has been extremely active this year, not only with its usual schedule but with its many social functions and public services.

The newest addition to the corps is the girls drill team. In their first year of competition, they have already demonstrated a great amount of talent. With the promise that most of the girls will be back next year, we can look forward to a squad competitive with the best in the state. Our boys drill team was not idle this year either. They competed across the state with many types of routines, working hard all year. The cadets were also given the chance to attend practical exercises at summer camp and on a trip to Fort Knox.

This has been a rewarding year for JROTC, and they hope for an even better one next year.

One of the major changes at Howe in recent years has been the rapid growth of work-study programs. In these programs students spend half a day in school and the remainder working at a paid job for which they also receive academic credit. They are able to apply job skills for which they have been trained in school.

Sponsored by the Business Department and directed by Mrs. Yvonne Perry, the Cooperative Office Education program trains students in the more practical skills required by a variety of office jobs. Advanced business courses are a prerequisite for this program. Students are placed in jobs throughout the Marion County area.

Distributive Education

Distributive Education students work at various jobs in the retailing field. Their responsibilities include almost all areas of getting merchandise to the public. Sales and cashing are only a few of their jobs. The program is coordinated by Mrs. Deborah Bareford.

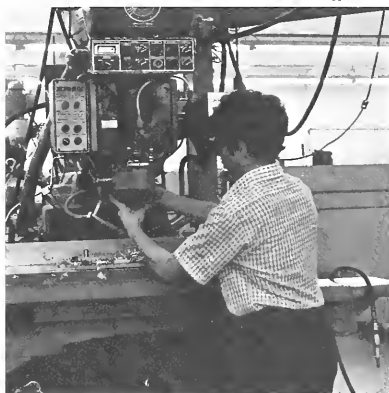

ICT

Howe's smallest work-study program, Industrial Cooperative Training, is under the direction of Mr. Jack Lawson. This program places advanced industrial arts students in less hazardous areas of industry, with most working in printing and light industries such as machine shops. This valuable program has been limited in enrollment by the few jobs available and by small department facilities but has a promising future with the expanded industrial arts program.

Health Occupations

The Health Occupations program, directed by Mrs. Norma Rauch, is one of the first and largest in the area. It also gives students interested in a vocation a chance to explore their chosen careers through classroom training and on-the-job experience. Students perform a variety of practical jobs in such varied health-oriented areas as doctors' offices, nursing homes, hospitals, and veterinarians' offices. Although closely supervised during training, they are given many important and interesting responsibilities including actual care of patients.

With a new advisor, Mrs. Jeannie Martin, and the largest staff the Tower has ever had, with half of them being new, this year's issues have been great. Several new ideas have gone in the paper. A few of these include an eight-page issue, a brown and gold issue for homecoming, a green issue for Christmas, a new style of heading. All of these ideas and many more have helped make this year's paper a unique and exciting one.

Exploratory Teaching

The exploratory teaching program, sponsored by Mr. Donald Glenn, allowed 25 Howe students to get an inside look at the teaching profession. The students, most of whom returned to their former grade schools, helped their assigned teachers grade papers, tutor students and conduct special projects. Not only did the cadet teachers learn by doing but they were required to turn in a biweekly report on some facet of modern education.

Quill and Scroll is the honor society for publications. It includes members of Tower, Hilltopper, and Pen Points staffs in the upper third of their class.

Pen Points is a magazine of student writing and artwork sponsored by the English department with the cooperation of the art department and the printing staff. Ann Fulk is the editor, and Laura Cox is the assistant editor. Ann is the only member to serve three consecutive years on Pen Points. Mr. Dinkens is the advisor of the publications, aided by Mrs. Neal and Miss Smith.

Juniors are eligible for the National Honor Society if they rate in the top ten per cent of their class and have a B average.

Clubs

Clubs at Howe have declined in number and enrollment in recent years. Part-time jobs, work-study programs, free ninth hours, and greatly expanded athletic programs for both boys and girls have taken their toll. Many of the functions once served by clubs have become part of the regular class routine as teachers have tried new methods. Although many students have found new forms of involvement, several clubs still function. Howe continues to provide clubs for students who desire them.

Senior Play

The class of '75 was the first to make a change in the traditional senior play. The seniors presented their "Night of One Acts" December twelfth at 8:00. At this moment the months of rehearsals came to an end, and the actual show was polished for audience approval.

The production opened with a short drama, Undertow, involving the life of an elderly lady and her jealousy for her married step-sister. The second play was Get Thee A Wife, a comedy take-off from Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing.

Mrs. Harriette Baker directed the production with the assistance of student director Candy Davis.

Musical

Kismet, from the Arabic word for fate, is a complex musical about a poor beggar who gains wealth and fame in the space of a day. The plot centers on Hajj the poet; his daughter; her lover, the prince; her husband, the wicked Wazir; and the Wazir's wife of wives, Lalume, who seeks the affections of the poet.

More than 200 people are involved in the production: at least 70 from the choir and concert clubs, 30 from the orchestra, 25 from the stage and paint crews, 20 from the make-up crew, 15 faculty and many others. Presenting a show appears to involve only the people one actually sees on the stage for the final performance, but to look backstage one couldn't even begin to count. All of these people stay for many hours after school, on Saturdays, and on holidays. Many come before 7:00 in the morning. They must feel it is really worthwhile because Howe has a reputation for putting on the best musicals around. Howe's music teachers and students have earned the school a great deal of prestige by packing the public into a 1,200 seat auditorium for several performances.

Finally it is the night of the show. Everyone is excited, the bustle backstage is at its peak and the emotions of the cast are a mixture of total fright and the knowledge that they perform it well. The curtain rises and a few hours later it is all over. Everyone is disappointed because he will never be in that exact situation again. The cast party, filled with tears, laughs, and songs, follows the final performance.

The Hilltopper would like to pay a tribute to Frank S. "Pop" Watkins for 35 years of dedication to Howe High School as teacher and department chairman. Mr. Watkins was the director of the first musicals ever presented in the present auditorium, built in the early 1960's. He is known by all to be devoted to music and to youth interested in music. Pop has brought the wonder of music to Howe High School and done much to bring the image of Howe to the community in a positive way.

Stage productions involve many behind-the-scenes activities which sometimes go unnoticed by audiences. Under the direction of Charles Pirtle students learn to build sets and paint scenes for various productions. During performances students take control of lights, curtains and spots under the direction of student stage manager Ron Miller. Richard Hammond's sound crew operates the entire sound system for stage productions. PTA meetings, and junior Homeroom. Intramurals Fill Need for Many

The intramural leagues in bowling and basketball serve many purposes. They provide recreation for students and serve as an outlet for those who lack either the time or the special talent for varsity competition. They also help to condition athletes whose major sports are out of season. Perhaps the high point of the intramural program is the rivalry between the upperclassmen and the faculty team in the basketball league. This rivalry reaches its peak in the annual senior-faculty game at the close of varsity basketball competition.

From the assembling of key chains to the production of TV shows, Howe students learned the "business end" of business from Junior Achievement. The students combined forces with other high school students from this area to form their own companies, sell stocks, manufacture products, and set up Expo displays. The two-day Expo held at the Convention Center marked the success of a few companies and the failure of others. In the past some of the group's most successful members have been Howe students. Whether their companies succeeded or not, each member found J.A. to be "Something Special."

Girls Tennis

Undefeated Second Straight Season

With a record like 10-0 who could complain? Certainly not the girls tennis team. For the past two years their record has been ten wins and no losses, capturing the city title as well. Along with the seven city trophies, the girls also won the sectionals taking four trophies. Lisa Scott and Mimi Boulais won in singles and Kathy Hinch and Becky Wilson in doubles. The four girls then advanced to the regionals where Lisa Scott took second place. This made her eligible for state competition.

The team achieved their fantastic record by practicing every day after school at Ellenberger Park or in the gym if the weather was bad. With great team spirit and lots of help from Coach Wilkes the girls hope to have a better year if that is possible.

Tennis Record

Best Yet

Howe's first undefeated varsity tennis team was made up of Bill Bankston, Tom Barnard, Dave DeHerdt, Leo DeHerdt, Keith Miller, Bill Rood, Mark Thomas and Phil Worthington. All were returning from the spring season except Jim Gossett and Mark Trulock. The Hornets were coached by Mr. Finkbinder and student teacher Paul Thomas, a former Howe player.

The fall team was the strongest ever to represent Howe. Senior Mark Thomas and junior Phil Worthington were superb in tight matches. Mark has won sixty-one matches and lost only seven over the four years he has been at Howe. "Bill Bankston, Tom Barnard and Dave DeHerdt along with Mark and Phil were among the top in the state," commented Coach Finkbinder.

The freshmen and junior varsity indicated great strength for Howe in coming years. They included Matt Langenbacher, Gerry Boulais, Alan Guthrie, Brian Miller and Steve Barnard.

Diamond Future Bright

Over the past ten years, Howe has had many better-than average reserve and freshman baseball teams. The 1974 spring reserve team finished with a good 10-5 season record. The Hornets were very strong in pitching, with Ray Littleton, Bill Dixon, Mark Gillespie, Tom Cridlin and Dan Siebenthal. They had a team batting average of .375. The team finished second in the city standings. Mr. Preston commented that the team was very strong in defense and he felt it an honor to coach them. The freshmen had a 2-3 record in a rain-shortened season. They were strong in both hitting and defense.

Diamond Season Successful

The varsity baseball team completed a successful 13-9-2 season. Pitching was the outstanding feature of the season. Steve Roberson, senior, had a fine 6-4 record, getting the call against the toughest teams. He was one of the best city pitchers. His earned run average was a very fine 1.03. Senior Rusty Eads led the team in most areas of hitting with a .320 average and 24 hits. Larry McCormick was team captain and led the team in RBI's. The team had several outstanding underclassmen. Doug McGuire played catcher and outfielder, Bernie Mackell and Kevin Johnson pitched and played first base, and Jim Holly played second base. Jim Holly stated, "The team this next season can be very good. Most of the guys have been playing together for years and with a little help from Coach Spears and a lot of teamwork, we can do a lot. I feel proud and very lucky that I played for Howe with a lot of great players. It was a great experience."

Golf

The golf team finished with a fine record of 14 wins and 2 losses but fell short of goals to win city and sectional championships. The team lost city champ Dennis Merriman but have 5 lettermen back and several promising underclassmen. "I'd say we'll go undefeated and take city and sectional," Doug Peters was quoted as saying.

Doug was asked about the reaction to girls on the team. "I think they would be accepted, provided they made the team under the same circumstances as the others. There's plenty of good female golfers."

The 1974 golf team practices for its winning season. The team consists of (first row) Doug Cotter, Rex Cotter, Doug Peters, Randy Kord, Dennis Merriman, (second row) Coach Phil Brown, John Sullivan, Joe Kaiser, Scott Erickson, Mark Negovan, and Dennis Soden.

The 1973 Howe girls track team added two meets to their busy schedule last year. Competing against the toughest city schools and two county schools, the girls tallied a fine record of 5-3. This was one of Howe's biggest girls track teams with 22 members competing in 12 different events. In the city meet the 880 medley relay team of Mary Wood, Carrie Shepard, Carol McCrae, and Sue Layman placed sixth. Tammy Lannom took second in the softball throw and Margaret Thornton was third against a tough field. Carol McCrae won fourth place in the running long jump with Mary Wood a close sixth. Howe qualified four tracksters for the sectionals with long jumper Carol McCrae advancing to the regionals. Beth Strickland, a fine 440 runner, was chosen by her teammates as the Best Mental Attitude award winner. Carol McCrae was chosen Most Valuable Player.

The boys track team had a record of 5-5 despite injuries early in the season. Captain Mike Privette and Gary Selke pulled leg muscles during a strenuous practice and were out for much of the season. But the remainder of the team did well and three new records were set during the season. Roger Wright set an all-time Howe record for the two mile at 9:30.7. John Scharbrough set a freshman record of 11 feet 6 inches in the pole vault, and Paul Harper ran the freshman mile in 4:45.3. The distance runners, John Adams, Roger Wright, Mike Privette, and Jim Rettig, had a very successful season. Greg Mathias was the team's best shot putter and discus thrower and scored 61 points during the season. Mike Privette was awarded the Best Mental Attitude honor and Roger Wright was voted Most Valuable Player.

With several talented seniors returning and some excellent newcomers, Howe's cross country squads had an excellent season. The varsity did especially well in dual meets, achieving a record of 11-2, and placed third in the Howe Invitational and second in the city meet. Roger Wright, the team's most valuable runner, was the individual city and sectional champ and went on to the state finals. He set several school and course records during the season. John Adams and Ray Janes both agreed in saying, "In our four years at Howe, this is the best cross country team we've had."

The reserve football team did not have one of the best seasons ever, but they had an acceptable year. Some outstanding players were quarterback Mark Collins, running backs Mike Wilson and Doug Privette, tackle Bill Gerald, and guard Elige McDaniels. The reserve team may not have had a perfect record, but they had sportsmanship. The coaches feel the team members learn a lot in football that couldn't be taught in the classroom—loyalty, responsibility and working well with others.

The freshman football team had a 5-3 season, one of the best in years. The team's hard work paid off in experience and skill for future participation in varsity sports.

"Our season was really up and down this year."

"The 1974 football season was really a nightmare."

These were the reactions of junior Ray Littleton and senior Bruce Lynette when asked about the football season. The varsity team ended the season with a record of five wins and five losses. Both of the players felt the team had a lot of spirit and desire to be state champs but just didn't reach the goals they had set.

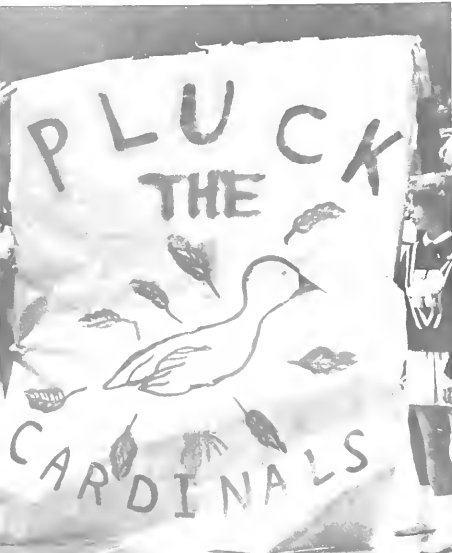

There were, however, several outstanding players on the team. Dave Detamore was selected for the all-state team as kicker. Bernie Mackell and Dan Dobson were both named the all-city team, while sophomore Jim Fair was given an honorable mention for all-city.

Ray Littleton summarized the season with, "All I can say is, we have fourteen lettermen returning next year and we hope to get the job done for the fans."

"Winning or losing, it was a fun and interesting year for all of us," was Bruce Lynette's comment.

This year was a turning point for basketball at Howe. It has been several years since Howe has had a winning team, but this year has been a big improvement.

One characteristic of the team was that they always gave highly regarded teams a tough game. Howe lost to Lawrence Central, Franklin Central and Tech—all undefeated and state-ranked when we played them—by a total of eight points. Our finest victories were over Warren Central and Shortridge. These early wins were important because they convinced the team of their ability to win.

Tony Pennington, Tom Kaye, Jim Fair and Dennis Moore were quick, sharp-shooting guards and made up a backcourt that was exciting to watch.

The aggressive front line was made up of senior Ken Parker and juniors Kevin Johnson and Evan Pritz. Key reserves were Tom Balentine, Wayne Munchel and Jim Holly.

Although the accomplishments did not match the potential, the team took a big step in the right direction by changing the attitude of being content with losing which had seemed a big problem in the past. This was the team's most important accomplishment, and many feel it will prove to be the first step toward a new era of winning for Howe basketball.

Freshmen and Reserves Win

This year the freshman basketball team had a new coach Bill Smith, a former Howe athlete. The team had several outstanding scorers, rebounders and ball handlers. They were very competitive as players, as friends and as classmates. According to Coach Smith, "The ability of the freshman squad to perform the uncoachable phases of basketball seemed to be one of the strong points of the year."

Like the freshman team, the reserve team was under a new coach. Mr. Larry Humes commented on the team, saying they worked well together and were willing to do the best job for the team and not for personal glory. The team had a very fine record this year. Leading scorer was Ray Littleton, who averaged 15 points a game, with Mark Gillespie and Howard Long averaging 10 points a game. Leading rebounders were Ray Littleton and Howard Long with 10 and 9 rebounds a game respectively.

Wrestling—A Growing Sport At Howe

Wrestling has become a really big sport here at Howe in the last couple of years. Much strenuous work has really paid off for this year's grapplers. The junior varsity team won the city title this year, the first time a Howe wrestling team has captured the city title. JV placers were Mark Hill, Chris Roeschlein, Jim Lowe, Hal Page, Steve Massey, Kevin Moorhead, Russell Byrd, and Steve Wilson. Howe also had three city champs: Dana Craig, freshman; Steve Massey, junior varsity; and Greg McAtee, varsity. This year's grapplers should all be congratulated for a job well done as should their coaches, Mr. Jim Arvin, Mr. Paul Miller, and Mr. Jerry McLeish.

The 1974-75 swim team was different from last year's in many respects. There was no getting up at the crack of dawn to make swim practice at 6:30 a.m. The team practiced at 4:30 in the afternoon at Forest Manor Middle School. This was the first year that the boys and girls teams swam varsity. Both had separate schedules and were considered full IHSAA teams. Many records were set this year: Greg Crooks in the 50, 100 and 200-yard freestyles and in the 100 butterfly; Duane Richey in the 100 backstroke and breaststroke; and Dave Wentz in the 200 individual medley. For the girls new records were set by Rob Williams in the 200 and 400 freestyle; Janice Wiggins in the 50 and 100 freestyle; and Sherri Boltz in the 50 and 100 breaststroke.

The team put forth all their effort to make this a great year. With the help of Coach Jessup the swimmers had their best times ever. Despite their short existence the swimmers have built an excellent future for Howe swimming.

"No Work! No Win!" Gymnastics Win.

The 1975 girls gymnastics team, second in the state in '74, have worked hard to be number one this year. The desire to work and win and a great deal of talent were the special qualities of the team. Despite use of the gym by two other teams after school, the girls worked every night and on weekends perfecting routines on balance beam, uneven bars, vaulting, and floor exercise.

As a whole, the team was both balanced and highly competitive. Many girls were high scorers during the season. The strongest event was the uneven bars with seniors Jan Frick, Cathy McAtee and Suzie Lawrence and juniors Susie Lovell and Teresa Cobb competing. Seniors Syndii DeFur and Jan Jones and junior Georgia Solberg were strong on the balance beam. Susie Lovell was outstanding in vaulting and is expected to be among the best in all-around competition next year. Georgia Solberg and Gerri Simmons showed talent in floor exercise, but the team suffered in this event from cramped practice facilities and lack of depth.

This year, the team welcomed back Miss Jan Brown, a long-time coach, to help former Howe student Mrs. Marilyn Reinhardt. Both coaches look forward to continuing the Howe tradition of winning gymnastics team in newer facilities next year despite losing many strong seniors.

The volleyball team had a tough year, with a varsity record of 5-6 and a reserve record of 7-3. The varsity team had only two members, Carol McCrae and Ann White, returning from last year. Lacking experience, they spent many hours practicing to perfect their skills. Coach McMillan introduced many new techniques which the girls worked hard to perfect.

The reserve team was made up entirely of new players. They improved greatly during the year and showed promise of a better record next year.

The team showed high morale despite poor attendance at games. In the sectional at North Central, the girls defeated Seccina 15-4 and 15-6 to advance to the semifinals against eventual champion North Central. They lost a hotly contested pair of games to the champions and ended the season proudly.

Hornet Honeys March Through Successful Year

This was a year of new experiences for the Hornet Honeys. The number of girls on the squad was raised to forty to give more girls the opportunity to participate as a drill team member. The squad, led by senior Diane Eden, marched to the tunes of "Georgie Girl" and "Make Me Smile" at a half-time show at the Market Square Arena, the first Hornet Honey squad ever to do so. The girls were also able to march in the 500 Festival Parade. The squad also went through a change of sponsors, as Miss Shirley Smith took over the job when Mrs. Barbara Banks gave up teaching at the change of the semester.

These things along with summer camp, performing at home football and basketball games, and marching at military meets with the ROTC units made this year hectic but exciting.

Working on a yearbook is much more than just a journalistic opportunity. It gives the student insight into the workings of a real business, handling real money.

The making of this year was an experience in my life which I shall never forget. Despite the usual problems of a too-small staff, a new advisor and scheduling, my staff and I created a 200-page yearbook. As editor-in-chief I planned the book and assigned staff members to various areas of the book.

I would like to thank many people: Mr. Tout and Mr. Dinkens for their valuable experience and encouragement; my staff for their diligence; Gene Alvarez and Ed Bowers of Tower Studio for photography, supplies and training of student photographers; and Larry Glaze of Paragon Yearbooks for the countless hours spent helping the Hilltopper staff.

Now it is graduation time and ...

I QUIT!
